

Election Casual Consultant

The Election Casual Consultant is a head office election casual position reporting to a project or program manager. The Election Casual Consultant may be involved in focus groups, reviewing manuals and online training, and developing training and recruitment products.

The Election Casual Consultant must conduct their duties in an efficient, impartial and professional manner.

Duties:

- apply legislation, rules, procedures and processes applicable to the project or program
- provide opinions, advice and expertise from an election casual perspective
- contribute to the review of procedures and processes
- perform project or program tasks and activities (as delegated)
- any other duties, as directed.